1.0 Why do we need a Framework?

1.1 Background

In line with the College's Strategy, this document seeks to streamline both external and internal communications and stakeholder engagement, providing a rationale, plan and guidelines for these and for the marketing effort. To achieve a comprehensive, cross-college approach to these the extant External and Internal Communications Strategies have been combined with marketing ambitions and priorities to produce a cohesive Communications, Marketing and Stakeholder Engagement Framework.

This framework will foster and enable an ethos and culture of open-ness, flexibility, innovation, trust and integrity which aligns with the Strategic Plan 2022-27 and the College's Ethos and Values Statement.

1.2 Scope

This Framework sets out the key objectives and priorities for communication, marketing and stakeholder engagement. This approach recognises the need for consistency of the over-arching message while taking account of the differing audiences as well as the channels, techniques and strategies to be used to target these. It will also outline the areas of responsibility.,

Effective and improved External and Internal communications are vital to successful engagement and empowerment of key stakeholders. It is anticipated this will have a positive influence on students and staff, as well as support better engagement with new and existing audiences.

This five-year Framework will be routinely reviewed to ensure it continues to deliver its aims in supporting the College Strategy 2022-27.

1.3 Key Objectives

The overall aim of this Framework is to ensure that the College engages effectively with its students, staff and stakeholders, making best and optimal use of the available existing and planned channels of communication, maximises the impact of its resources to market the College, its courses and services effectively, and supports effective and impactful partnership.

The key objectives of this Framework are to:

1. Create an image of the college which truly reflects Kelvin's ethos, values and strengths. This is to encourage engagement, recruitment and retention of students and staff in a way that is persuasive, sustainable and real.
2. Ensure the right resources, mechanisms and organisational culture is in place to support the sharing of communications across and out with the college
3. Support the development of stakeholder relationships by focussing on relevant communication that enhances the image and reputation of Kelvin for our Stakeholder partners. This communication will contribute to our support of key strategies at national, regional and community level.

4. Provide structure and guidance for both internal and external communications which helps to protect and nurture the college's reputation. Staff will understand their role in communications and the potential impacts they can make.
5. Ensure targeted, accessible and effective marketing of the College's high-quality, inclusive learning and promote success to potential students and stakeholders

2.0 How will we support the College's Ambitions & Priorities ?

This Framework will align to the College Strategy 2022-27 and the three Ambitions:

- Ambition 1 – Deliver an inspirational and inclusive student experience
- Ambition 2 – Strengthen our communities and environment
- Ambition 3 – Create a high performing, resilient and responsive college

Our vision is to transform lives through education. We want to be bold, ambitious, confident and proud in our communications. We want to be community and employer led, delivering high quality, student- focussed learning that reflects the needs of different stakeholders within the broader context of the city and national economies.

Communications are vital in achieving this vision and need to be dynamic and engaging throughout every part of the college and beyond.

To achieve our three Strategic ambitions and nine priority areas, the college has to have a distinct point of difference in what is a crowded external environment. Much of this can be achieved through the correct communication messages, as well as the right tone of voice.

2.1 Alignment to the College Strategic Ambitions

The success of this Framework can only be achieved through strong integration across all areas of the College.

This ensures that everyone in the College understands the purpose of the Framework, and, therefore, puts all efforts towards the ambitions, priorities and key objectives within each area.

In line with the Vision and Purpose of the College, nine communication, marketing and stakeholder engagement objectives have been created to support the College in achieving its three strategic ambitions. These are presented in the Matrix below.

	Ambitions
	Deliver an Inspirational and Inclusive Learner Experience	Strengthen our Communities and Environment	Create a High-performing, Resilient and Responsive College
External	Support the celebration of student and college success and achievements by telling the story of successful College students	Enhance the profile and protect the reputation of the College through positive messaging and engagement / consultation with key stakeholders	Cultivate a sense of pride and attachment in stakeholders and the market as an inclusive, skilled and responsive provider of high-quality learning and engagement
Internal	Promote and expose staff and students to equality, diversity, fairness, access and inclusion to embed a college wide approach	Ensure staff and students are aware of what is going on and their responsibilities in supporting	Ensure consistency of comms to reflect College values
Marketing	Encourage engagement and recruitment of learners to exciting opportunities which will meet their needs and advance their ambition	Engage with the wider community as a channel to signpost and promote awareness, benefits of learning and progression	Identify needs and, based on analytics, align promotion effectively

3.0 Who do we need to Communicate with ?

3.1 Who are our Stakeholders ?

The Cambridge Dictionaries Online defines a stakeholder as: “A person such as an employee, customer or citizen who is involved with an organisation, society, etc and therefore has responsibilities towards it and an interest in its success”.

The College has a large number of stakeholders, both internal and external, and these have been summarised under six main headings below.

Audience	Current Students	Staff & Board Members	Potential Students and their Influencers/ Supporters	Education Sector Colleagues	Employers & Industry	Wider Network	Other
Segments	Students	Staff	Schools	SFC	Local Employers	Glasgow City Council	External Auditors
	Student Association	Trade Unions	School Pupils	SDS	Industry Bodies	Education Minister	Internal Auditors
	Industry Learners – Commercial & Apprentices	Team Managers	Adult Learners	GCRB & Glasgow Colleges	Employer Representative Groups	Scottish & UK Governments	The ALF
	GKC Learning Network Partners	College Groups	Parents & Advocates	Colleges Scotland & Colleges' Employers Scotland	Professional Bodies	Local Elected Members, MPs and MSPs	Commercial Partners
	FWDF Companies	SMT/SLT	College Access Programmes – Community Hub	Colleges Universities		Other Local Authorities	International Partners
		College Board	Local Communities	Education Scotland		Community Planning	APUC
			Job Centres	SQA & Other Awarding Bodies		Community Partners	Project Partners
			The Media	GTCS		Third Sector	Current Funders
				SAAS		Alumni	Potential Funders
				CDN		Special Interest Groups	Regulators, eg ICO, H&S

3.2 What do they want from us ?

Stakeholders want different things from the College, just as we want different things from our stakeholders.

We know that we need our stakeholders for a number of purposes: to become College learners, to work for us and with us, to fund us and to promote, guide and support us.

Depending on their level of interest in us and their ability to influence and facilitate achievement of our ambitions and goals, stakeholders require a different degree of engagement from us. Where stakeholders have a high level of influence and a low level of interest, our communications should seek to improve this engagement.

The table below analyses the stakeholders at 3.1 above relative to their influence and interest and allows us to consider how we should engage with them, who leads on this engagement on behalf of the College and who we should prioritise. This will allow the College to build better relationships and enhance its reputation and profile both across Glasgow and nationally.

Glasgow Kelvin College

Communications, Marketing and Stakeholder Engagement Framework

2022-27

Our communications and marketing will be

- Clear and consistent in line with the College's vision, values, ambitions and priorities
- Consistent with strategic messaging
- Pro-active based on College planning and stakeholder expectations
- Responsive to insight, monitoring, feedback and review

4.2 Channels and Techniques

Although the messaging remains broadly similar, the stakeholder audiences vary across External, Internal Communications and Marketing which highlights that differing channels and techniques should be deployed to ensure an appropriate 'reach' and 'voice' for each.

4.2.1 External Communications

To optimise external communications, reputation, positive relations and to stimulate brand awareness, the College will:

- share good news and successful student stories across all external platforms
- emphasise the pipeline of successful and accessible delivery of high-quality, industry-standard skills from entry to degree-level which address identified need and align with employment and career opportunities
- take account of key national strategies and align with the drive to tackle the poverty-related attainment gap
- position itself as a byword for community engagement and capacity building, engaging and empowering individuals
- promote the influence of College values on the centrality of access and inclusion for diverse communities
- nurture and develop partnerships with employer, community and regional stakeholders to support their planned workforce and strategic development
- embed the College's sustainability and equalities agenda in all communications
- place our students and their success at the heart of our communications, generating a sense of confidence, pride and ownership
- celebrate the success of students and staff in creating an inspirational, stimulating and rewarding experience in an outstanding physical environment.
- Media / Social Media

4.2.2 Internal Communications

Internal communications will embed the over-arching values and ethos of the College and be delivered through audience-appropriate channels, be that to students or to staff. To support the aims listed above, the College will:

- Ensure equal access to relevant information for staff and students which will support them to fulfil and develop their role at work or in study through a variety of targeted communication channels

- Provide an extensive electronic library of college reference documents including strategies, plans, policies and staff directories on the intranet
- Provide modern and effective ICT infrastructure which is secure and as accessible as possible
- Ensure all managers are encouraged to engage effectively with their teams in an open and transparent way and that they make appropriate arrangements for team meetings and briefings
- Develop an e-mail etiquette policy which will seek to encourage effective use of e-mail as a primary communication channel
- Develop a standard professional electronic signature in line with the College's brand
- Request that the Principal and members of the Strategic Management Team attend team meetings on invitation
- Ensure the website and social media feeds will be updated regularly with relevant information and College/learner news
- Implement the learner engagement strategies and place suggestion boxes at each campus to deliver an effective feedback communication channel and ensure comments will be considered by SMT regularly
- Arrange at least two All Staff conference days per year with a Principal's address
- Encourage communication in plain English
- Avoid unnecessary duplication of communication
- Support and develop its online learning platform and ICT infrastructure and systems to ensure tutors have effective and streamlined means of electronic communication with class groups and will enable students to communicate with one another and
- Regularly seek the views and opinions of staff in respect of the effectiveness of college communication and ensure an effective feedback mechanism is in place

The implementation of the above presents an opportunity for Glasgow Kelvin College to improve how staff and students are communicated with and how they can influence the management and development of the College through engagement and consultation.

4.2.3 Marketing

To support the above, the Communications and Marketing Team will:

- Adopt a Digital First approach for promotional materials
- Work with the Sustainability officer to support the College's sustainability agenda
- Through dissemination from SMT, Operational Managers and market intelligence, identify skills and community needs in order to plan appropriately for curriculum
- Reflect the College's core values throughout the marketing effort, including imagery, content, accessibility and compliance
- Benchmark and quantify performance through analytics and wider sector engagement
- Routinely explore latest technologies and market intelligence to inform campaigns
- Adopt a Lean/ Continuous Improvement approach to marketing processes
- Optimise use of News section on OurKelvin for events planning and information sharing
- Ensure promotion targets effectively through a range of relevant media

- Conduct dynamic, interactive and responsive social media campaigns
- Support Faculty involvement in course promotion
- Organise, Co-ordinate and stage events which promote success and demonstrate the College ethos
- Support the development of an end-user conscious website platform

5.0 Who is responsible ?

A culture of good communication is the responsibility of everyone within the College. It is essential to communicate in a professional and well-informed manner with those who come into contact with the organisation, using clear and consistent messaging that is appropriate to the audience's needs.

To support this, the College has restructured its marketing and communication function, effective from October 2022 to July 2024.

5.1 Marketing Department: Restructure

In October 2022, following endorsement by the Board of Management of the new Framework, it was agreed by SMT that marketing and communications would become the responsibility of the Business Development Team. To support this, two new roles were created, Marketing and Commercial Manager and Engagement Manager. These roles will be undertaken by the current Head of Commercial and Marketing Manager.

This change allows the College to access all levels of expertise and experience required to support and deliver the College's new branding strategy, website and to ensure effective and efficient internal communications and external engagement with key stakeholders and partners.

The two roles are summarised below:

Marketing & Commercial Manager

This role is responsible for the delivery of the College's commercial, marketing and communications objectives. With specific regards to marketing and communications, the role covers the following;

- College branding lead
- Website and digital marketing development
- College marketing strategy development and implementation, both externally and on campus
- Media relations plan and activities
- Events: Graduation, Summer Awards, Open Days etc
- Market research and insights to drive college marketing activity
- Management of existing college marketing team and associated budgets

Engagement Manager

This role will ensure that the College has a comprehensive and relevant internal communications plan and that external stakeholders are fully and appropriately engaged. The role will also develop a brand new Friends of Glasgow Kelvin programme. The role's main objectives are to;

Glasgow Kelvin College

Communications, Marketing and Stakeholder Engagement Framework

2022-27

- Develop, manage and deliver an Internal Communications Plan
- Develop a new Friends of Glasgow Kelvin and Philanthropic Plan
- Develop and deliver a new Political and Community Stakeholder Engagement Plan
- Compile Award submissions and to maximise the College's profile from these submissions

The Marketing Team will support communications and information channels within the organisation as appropriate and externally with potential and existing stakeholder partners and potential students.

The team will be responsible, in conjunction with the Vice Principal Operations and Director of People and Culture for setting and articulating the direction of the College's communications and marketing and helping to ensure that the College optimises its channels to support and enhance student recruitment.

5.2 Management

Good communication is at the core of all high performing organisations and should be integrated from a senior level down. The College aims to create and maintain an internal culture in which staff are informed, aware, reflective and able to raise ideas and suggestions. Managers must wherever possible provide swift and full answers, and to respond positively and constructively to ideas for improvement.

Responsibility for the implementation of effective staff communications resides with the Senior Management team with support from the People & Culture Department and the Engagement Manager

5.3 Role of Staff

Staff are the day-to-day ambassadors of the College and the services it provides. There is a wealth of expertise, ideas, enthusiasm and potential contribution within the organisation, at all levels and across all functions, which should be deployed creatively and effectively in the improvement and development of services.

All staff have responsibility for good operational communications and managers should encourage discussion on their views and ideas while providing relevant information as appropriate.

5.4 Communications and Marketing Forum

The Communications and Marketing Forum will be established to help embed the new Framework across the College and enhance internal and external communications and to support and inform the College's approach to marketing.

The Forum be led by the Director of Business Development t, will meet at least three times per annum and the start of each academic term. Membership will include Marketing, Engagement and a representative from each faculty, Business Development, Student Support Services, Student Information Services, Finance, Admin & Secretariat, Estates, People & Culture, ICT, Health & Safety and Student Association.

6.0 What are the main communication channels ?

8.0 What are the College's Core and Key messages ?

The College will present a consistent narrative across all audience groups, aligned to our priority areas, but tailor its messages and the communication channels it uses according to the audience groups.

The College has Vision and Mission Statements which underpin the Ethos and Values with which it aligns. These are as follows:

Vision Statement: Transforming lives through education.

Mission Statement: Glasgow Kelvin College will enhance learners' aspirations, careers and lives through accessible, inclusive, high-quality lifelong learning.

A range of key and core messages will be developed which the College will communicate to its stakeholders. These will embed the ethos and values of the College and be rooted in the three core areas of:

The Kelvin Brand

Raising the College's profile. What makes Glasgow Kelvin College unique?

- Strengthen brand identity - Vision, Strategic Ambitions and Priorities and how these link to our USPs using the campaign Real Glasgow – Nowhere Like Kelvin

- Benefits, both practical and ethical (making a difference)
- Promotion and progress reporting of common goals and objectives - project and general updates, success stories and service levels
- Investment in Professional Development
- Operational excellence – staff expertise & knowledge
- Efficiency and delivery of high quality services

9.0 How will we measure success ?

To demonstrate progress, the College will monitor performance against designated key indicator measurements which allows it to consistently track its success rate towards this strategy's seven communications objectives detailed in section 4.2.

1. Increase our student applications from School leavers, young people and adult returners
2. Increase our employer engagement
3. Increase our access to external funding.
4. Grow our non SFC funding sources
5. Communicate and engage with our existing students to create an inspirational and inclusive student experience
6. Ensure all staff are informed through effective communications and engagement to support a culture of open and honest two-way communication, ensuring they feel valued with clear direction on how their role connects to the College priority areas
7. Create a College-wide Communications Forum to work with teams across the College to agree on innovative approaches and explore new technologies to make improvements to the College and how we market ourselves

Key indicators – success will be measured by:

- Quality and effectiveness of communications and employee engagement will be measured through regular temperature checks and staff surveys
